New Deputy Chief Counsel Appointed to the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts

HARRISBURG- Pennsylvania State Court Administrator Andrea Tuominen today announced the appointment of Sean Concannon as the new deputy chief counsel for the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts (AOPC).

"We are thrilled to welcome Mr. Concannon to the AOPC and are confident that his experience and fresh perspective will be invaluable to the courts, further strengthening our commitment to justice for all Pennsylvanians," said Tuominen.

Concannon previously served as deputy general counsel for the Milton Hershey School where he oversaw high-level legal matters for the home and school for children, as well as deputy general counsel for the Governor's Office of General Counsel. In the latter role he was responsible for advising the governor and executive branch agencies on a wide range of legal matters, and his expertise was instrumental in shaping key policies and initiatives that impacted the citizens of Pennsylvania.

"I am honored to join the AOPC Legal team and look forward to contributing to the important work of the court system. I am excited to work alongside such dedicated professionals and to help support the fair and efficient administration of justice in of Pennsylvania," Concannon expressed.

Mr. Concannon holds a Juris Doctor (J.D.) from the Dickinson School of Law, Penn State University.
